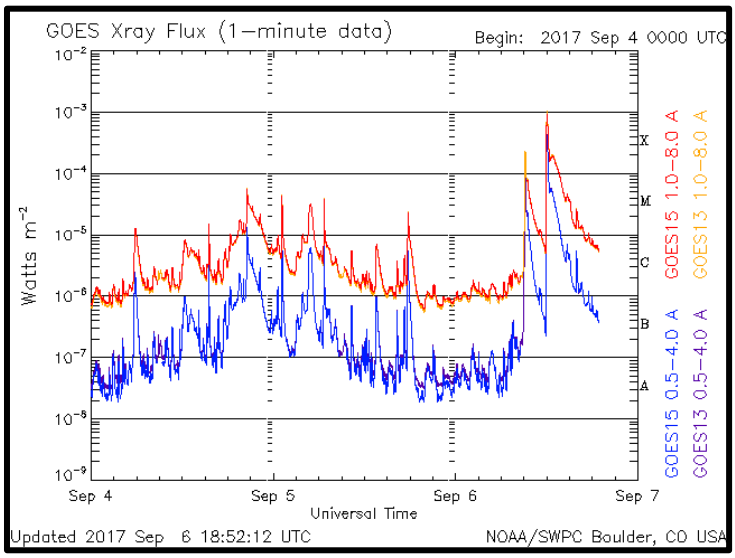
I'VE NEVER SEEN THIS MANY X-RAYS FROM THE SUN BEFORE!



The "X-Class" designation means (1) Strong; (2) Severe; or (3) Extreme. Yesterday we reported that an M-Class Flare was in effect and may have something to do with the Hurricanes active in our Gulf Coast region. Today, (Sept. 6) we're very much convinced of it! Records being set all around. The M-Class Flare has just been dwarfed by an X-Class Flare which has driven X-Ray Flux and Proton Flux to numbers that I, personally, have never seen before! (Sept. 6-7)

Now we have the Biggest Hurricane in memory, having ravaged the Caribbean, headed into Florida. There have been NO hurricanes entering the US mainland in over 12 years. Has Mother Nature been saving up for these?

And now, Mexico just experienced the largest earthquake in a century just off its Western coastline. (September 7-8)

What are the odds that these events are NOT Related? We'd guess SLIM to NONE!

The psychological component seems to be associated most closely with ANGER as that appears to be the most evident change since the Charlottesville riot, North Korean belligerence, Trump moving towards the Left to help his agenda spurned by RINO Republicans, etc, etc, etc.

We searched "Anger in the News" and got an immediate 16,600,000 responses, but cannot honestly say that is 'normal' or 'heightened.' Announcement of 143 million personal ID's swiped from Equifax does little to reduce the general background tension!

We recommend meditation, prayer, calming affirmations–don't allow your emotional balance to be disturbed!
